After Effects makes a big scene bigger. Create cinematic movie.Q: Network Unreachable error from Azure Ubuntu Linux VM I have created and configured an Ubuntu Linux Azure VM, everything was working fine for a while but suddenly the VM started giving errors. One of the error mentioned that the network was not reachable (see screen shot below). It seems like some kind of connectivity issue, however, when I try to run ip addr show from the command line, I do not get any ip address for eth0. The error mentioned by the VM is OS Details: os - Ubuntu 16.04 LTS kernel - 4.4.0-96-generic Network Details: I have tried rebooting the VM and did not help. I have enabled networking and restarted networking service. Any ideas? A: It seems like some kind of connectivity issue, however, when I try to run ip addr show from the command line, I do not get any ip address for eth0. First, the ip addr command is used to display the network configuration. Usually, the connectivity is achieved before you run the command, which is not a problem. If you do not see any ip address for eth0, it means the connectivity issue has happened before you run the command, which might indicate a dead wireless or other connectivity issue. You can refer to this doc to find the issue. I don't know what you have done, but rebooting the VM does not help, if you just did not change anything. So I'm afraid that you may have resolved the issue after rebooting the VM 82157476af
